The Jeffco DeAngelis Foundation is pleased to sponsor training for schools, and school districts, in Mesa County and the surrounding area October 15-16 at the Colorado Mesa University Student Center.

- ◆ Opening remarks Kevin Carroll, Executive Director, Jeffco DeAngelis Foundation.
- ◆ Viewing of brief FBI documentary exploring the issue of school shootings and what schools, parents, and law enforcement can do to help prevent these attacks.
- ◆ John McDonald, Executive Director of Safety and Security for Jefferson County Schools, shares his perspective on the importance of a thoughtful and thorough threat assessment system.
- ◆ Katherine Kuhlmann, Psy.D., Police & Public Safety Psychologist, Nicoletti-Flater Associates will ensure participants leave with an understanding regarding the following questions:
 - Who are the key players? What are their responsibilities?
 - What are the right questions to be asking?
 - What should a team be looking and listening for before, during and after the threat assessment processes?
- ◆ Participants will explore an array of real-world student examples emphasizing key components of an effective threat assessment system.
